

How We Help Residential Clients

If you're a homeowner, condo owner, vacation home owner, or renter, you probably haven't read your insurance policy lately. Even if you've recently taken the time to read it, you probably didn't fully understand all the provisions, conditions, and endorsements.

And now, the worst case scenario has happened. You need to ask yourself:

- 1. Is this a major financial transaction for my family and me?*
- 2. Was my family busy before this loss occurred?*
- 3. Would my family benefit if I could focus on their emotional needs and let someone else handle the time-consuming, tedious claims process?*
- 4. Do I want this matter resolved knowing that an expert is looking out for my family's interests?*

While we can't fully understand what you and your family are going through right now, we do know how to help. Don't wait another day; contact us today and we'll explain the next steps you need to take.

SLC Gets Results

When our house burned down, we lost over 50 years worth of belongings. I was trying to get everything listed and all the paperwork prepared. My husband had just gone through by-pass surgery, so that left everything to me, and I just got overwhelmed. When I called them, they came and saved me. I didn't know that this kind of business existed until then. It's wonderful."

- Barbara Mitchell, Homeowner

"SLC was very courteous, very understanding. They helped me through probably one of the hardest times in my life. They were a great support system. Everyone in the office was very professional. I just can't say enough about them. I would highly recommend them to anyone."

- Sue McClatchey, Homeowner
